

WHAT is IMPORTANT to Me

Every person has a different vision. He sees a thing with a different angle. He gives an importance to the things which is valuable in his vision.

But if anyone ask about me the most important thing which is important to me are my values. Values are like your DNA. Our values tells our background, our thoughts and our attitude. Values judge a person. Everything we think, we take move or action, we aim of is as result of our values. Values shape a person and mould a personality. Values tells us the depth of our personality and if our base (depth) will be good, our will be automatically strong. Just like it, if a person is valuing luxuries more than leading a simple life so he may fulfill his worldly desires but can't make a soul satisfying. Values are way and they give the direction to make the life valuable.

The most important values to me are:

1. Health 2. Parents/Friendship
3. Respect 4. Happiness 5. Love
6. Hard work 7. Honesty

1. Health: Health is the most important valuable gift from God. It must be prioritize first at any cost. There is a saying that, "Health is wealth". It's actually the most expensive thing one can have. Health is so much important to be taken care. Good health is a blessing of God. If we will have good health, then we can enjoy our life. And then these luxuries matters I. Because though you have money but if you don't have good health then these luxuries have no importance in your life. Because of health we can live our life to the fullest and love every second of it.

2. Parents: Parents are the people who are your caretaker. They are the only people to love you truly. My parents are my values because they are my support. If I am able to write this essay it is just because of them, their sacrifices for me, their attention towards me. If parents are happy, God is happy with you and if God is happy then no one can stop you to achieve, to get what you want.

3. Respect: Your respect is above all else. It is the greatest expression of love. Respect is esteem. It is the action which you earn when you give. It is like the cycle. You can only get the live when you will give respect. We should treat the people, in the way we want to be treated. It cost 0 to treat someone with respect. Without respect love is lost.

4. Happiness: Happiness is the name of joy. It is the satisfaction. Happiness to me is to feel free and relax. Happiness is living a moment fully. Happiness is when we see our family happy. Happiness is helping others and feeling your soul satisfy.

5. Love: Love is the most beautiful feeling in the love. Love is a security. It is what secures you. It is the feeling which makes you trust people blindly. Love is accepting someone's flaws. Love is having your parents, family, friend and partner through a path in the beautiful journey of your life.

6. Hard work: Hard work is the effort we do become successful. It is the strength of the people. Hard work is the key to success. It makes a way towards success. Hard work builds a character, and contributes to success. It is a value which you realize when you finally achieve something successfully. Hard work always pays off in a better way.

7. Honesty: Honesty is a basic core value. It is not only about to speak truth. It is about being real and don't have dual sides. There is a proverb that "Honesty is the first chapter of the book of wisdom". The title of Sadiq was given to Holy Prophet (PBUH) because of his honesty. There is no legacy in the world which is so rich as honesty.

So, one should not compromise on their values. Values are what make us to believe in life and to build your strong character.

“ The First Day of School is The Best/Worst Because ● ● ● ”

As I slowly paced towards the school gate my heart throbbed vigorously. An uncomfortable premonition of fear pervaded my senses.

You might be wondering from the text above that I had an awful day, but it was completely the opposite.

When I approached the classroom I was mesmerised by the ravishing beauty of the area. The doors were covered in glitter cutouts which spelt the word "Welcome to O levels". The whole classroom was loaded with projects, assignments, art supplies and other essentials. I was a little nervous as it was my first day in a new, strange place. When I entered into the classroom everybody cheered and welcomed me in the class. I was quite surprised because many of them knew my name. Then I realized that they knew me because I wrote some articles and stories in a monthly magazine called "VShine kids".

But that was 2-3 years ago and I didn't even use my real name when I wrote it.

From that moment on everything became a piece of cake. I made many friends, who helped me catch up with the previous assignments. They lent me their notes and assisted me a lot. I was grateful to Allah Almighty that I got such wonderful friends. The teachers were very friendly and taught with full zeal and I had quite a fun time.

So, in my scenario the first day of school is the best of them all!!
